

INFORMATION ON WORKSHOP ON ARTS RESEARCH

On November 5th and 6th, 2010 the Universidade do Algarve (Portugal) will host the I Workshop on Arts Research. This workshop is promoted by the Universidade do Algarve and the CIAC – Centre for Research in Communication and Arts, in collaboration with EUA / Council for Doctoral Education. It aims at discussing the issue of Research in the field of Arts, as well as to reflect on the creation of networks of Doctoral Schools, which may foster a permanent dialogue among the many courses in Europe on the academic field of the Arts.

Any discourse on Research on Arts is bounded by artistic performance as such, and by the research made into this field. This is also one of the major problems faced by sponsors: how to set the rules and criteria, as well as a methodology, to rightly and righteously assess the research made within artistic areas? A new paradigm is yet to be created and consolidated, which will allow for a more fruitful relationship between Arts and Science – even if technology is already a given asset in the current discourse of artistic texts. Through three panels and a plenary conference at the closing, the workshop will allow for the discussion of the relations between Arts and Sciences, as well as the role of the artist/scholar and advanced learning in Arts and the promotion of 3rd cycles.

Artists, scholars and researchers from a number of different countries will have the opportunity to share their experiences and to open up a line for dialogue in these areas. At the end a report of the works shall be presented.
